Your listing can also be shared with several of the local Councils and other partner organisations for publication on their websites, helping to further amplify the reach of your business.

ONLINE PRESENCE

Using social media and creating your own website is an important way to advertise and market your property to a wide audience. You can also install booking engine software on your website to allow visitors to book rooms. Tourism NI has designed toolkits to help you with getting online, social media channels, Google Analytics, and search engine optimisation.

ROUTES TO MARKET THROUGH DISCOVER NI

Online Travel Agents (OTAs) are often a go-to for visitors before they make their final choice about where to stay in Northern Ireland. These third-party booking agents allow you to list your rooms on their sites and facilitate the bookings through their platforms as well as local operators. Examples of popular OTAs include Booking.com, Hotels.com, Expedia.com, Trivago.com and AirBnB. However, always ensure that you are comfortable with their commission rates, and terms and conditions.

Tourism Exchange Great Britain (TXGB) is a platform designed to help you access new routes to market and reduce your commission costs by connecting tourism businesses with a range of local and international distributors. You can access many of the leading OTAs or make your product listing on the Discover Northern Ireland website bookable.

QUALITY GRADING SCHEME

Visitors increasingly demand high accommodation standards, and the quality of your product will influence the future success of your business. For 75% of consumers, a star rating will influence their choice. The TNI Quality Grading Scheme is designed to give visitors a clear idea of the standards of accommodation, service and cleanliness, which they can expect during their stay. The scheme is open to hotels, guest houses, B&Bs, self-catering, hostels and guest accommodation; with premises having the ability to achieve a grading of between one to five stars.
